

Send children to Daham schools to build just society

- Athauda

Parents should send their children to the schools every day to build a just and fair society. In your relations with the people, the Minister should have a balance to build a just society, which is the goal of the state.

The Minister should have a balance to build a just society, which is the goal of the state. He should have a balance to build a just society, which is the goal of the state.

The Minister said he will remember the days when he worked as a teacher in a school. He said he was the person who started this school in this area. He said he was established in this school. He said he was established in this school.

He said he was the person who started this school in this area. He said he was established in this school. He said he was established in this school.

He said he was the person who started this school in this area. He said he was established in this school. He said he was established in this school.

He said he was the person who started this school in this area. He said he was established in this school. He said he was established in this school.

He said he was the person who started this school in this area. He said he was established in this school. He said he was established in this school.

He said he was the person who started this school in this area. He said he was established in this school. He said he was established in this school.

Rebuilding of tsunami damaged houses starts in Galle and Kattankudy

The rebuilding of tsunami damaged houses in Galle and Kattankudy has started. The government has allocated funds for the reconstruction of the damaged houses. The work is being carried out by the relevant authorities.

The government has allocated funds for the reconstruction of the damaged houses. The work is being carried out by the relevant authorities. The rebuilding process is well advanced in both areas.

The rebuilding process is well advanced in both areas. The government is committed to providing support to the affected people. The work is being carried out in a timely manner.

The government is committed to providing support to the affected people. The work is being carried out in a timely manner. The rebuilding process is well advanced in both areas.

400 fishermen to receive fishing gear

Fishing gear and supplies were distributed to 400 fishermen in Galle and Kattankudy. The gear was provided by the government to help them rebuild their livelihoods after the tsunami.

By: [Name]

By: [Name]

By: [Name]

By: [Name]

By: [Name]

By: [Name]

By: [Name]

By: [Name]